ADRIAN IAIES TRIO
Las Tardecitas de Minton's

Label: Acqua Records - 2000

Producer: Adrián Iaies

Minton's Playhouse was the name of the Harlem's night club where Charlie Parker, Dizzy Gillespie, Thelonius Monk, Charlie Christian, Kenny Clarke, and many other, gave birth to a new jazz era. In Buenos Aires, Argentina, Minton's is a records store specialized in jazz, named after the famous New York club. In Las Tardecitas de Minton's -a two CD set- Adrián Iaies reminisces of those afternoons spent at Minton's, surrounded by a captivating -almost surreal, ethereal- musical atmosphere, zipping coffee and discussing passionately about musicians and music while letting his soul be transported to another place and time...

Adrián Iaies is a pianist deeply immersed in his "porteño" roots, in his southern musical traditions. The always revered "tango" is unavoidable in his work, but only as a point of departure for further explorations. His re-creations take it to another level, his musical treatments and jazz conceptualizations are charged with a very personal take and a universal projection.

This Grammy nominated CD set put Adrián Iaies in the global musical map, reminding us about this important branch of the Latin jazz tree -one not usually explored by Latin jazz musicians in North America.

Adrián interprets three classic Carlos Gardel's songs: Amores de estudiante, El Día que me quieras and Volver. He presents five of his own compositions: De tal palo, tal astilla; Valsecito para una rubia tremenda; Juárez el casamentero; El patrón de la vereda and Las tardecitas de Minton's.

Adrián Iaies Trio are:
Adrián Iaies - piano
Oscar Giunta - drums
Paco Weht - acoustic bass

with the participation of:
Gabriel Rivano - bandoneón
